

NEST OF SMALL-POX.

There Have Been Nine Cases in a Big Eighth Avenue Tenement.

There Are Twenty Families and 100 People in the Building.

Health Officers Vaccinating Everybody in the Vicinity.

Another nest of small-pox has been discovered by the Health Department in the big tenement, harboring twenty families and 100 people, at 2704 Eighth avenue. As a result, there are eight patients seriously ill, and a man detained for observation in Riverside Hospital, North Brother Island, this morning, while in Reception Hospital, at the foot of East Sixteenth street, there lies the body of a victim of the infection, who when found was slowly dying and unable to be removed, and a convalescent is detained there for disinfection.

The unfortunate are:

ANNIE WARD, nine years old. Body removed from the house to Reception Hospital for burial.

JAMES AGAR, twenty-six years old.

MARY AGAR, twenty years old, six weeks ill.

MARY AGAR, three years old, her child.

BRIDGET AGAR, five months old, youngest child of the AGARs.

BERTIE MORGAN, seven years old. Recovered after three weeks illness and taken to Riverside Hospital for disinfection.

LUCY WARD, two-year-old sister of Bertie.

WILLIAM WARD, thirty-seven years old, brother of the AGARs and Lucy, taken to the island for observation.

DELLA AGAR, twenty years old, relative of the AGAR family.

The first intimation that the Health Department had of the pest-house was late Wednesday night, when Dr. O'Byrne, the uptown inspector, heard that there was a suspicious case in the house. He went there and found Della Agar. She was very ill with small-pox, and was at once taken to Reception Hospital.

Yesterday morning the inspector went to the Eighth avenue tenement to vaccinate and fumigate, and discovered that nearly all the members of the families, the AGARs, MORGANs and WARDs, were ill with the disease, and that no physician had been called in to treat them.

In the Ward apartments there was a sick woman, little Annie lay on her bed dying, while beside her was William Ward, the distracted father, who refused to leave his child's side.

Word was sent to the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, and more inspectors were hurried to the tenement. The utmost secrecy was maintained in the matter until the patients had all been removed.

It would have been an act of inhumanity to take the dying girl from the tenement, and so Dr. Doty, the Chief Inspector, ordered that she be left undisturbed to die in peace.

Mr. and Mrs. Agar and their children and little Morgan were too sick to stand the long journey to East Sixteenth street in an ambulance, so it was determined to wait until the evening boat, and then take the patients to the foot of East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, and thence to North Brother Island. In the morning the body of Della Agar was taken to Reception Hospital.

At 7:30 a. m. had been taken to the island. A thorough inspection of the tenement revealed no more sick ones.

The cause of the outbreak is said to be due to the carelessness of the Morgan family in not reporting the case of Bertie Morgan. Three weeks ago he was taken ill, and when discovered yesterday morning was almost entirely recovered. He was removed to the island and subjected to a bichloride of mercury bath. The nearest house to 2704 Eighth avenue is 2750. A number of cases have been removed from the latter place during the past few weeks.

The Morgan boy may have contracted small-pox from that quarter. Health inspectors are trying to find the true cause to-day.

Most thorough cleaning up is being given the three floors of the infected tenement to-day. All of the furniture and household effects of the twenty families in the place is being sent to the Reception Hospital and fumigated. It will be returned to the owners.

The walls and ceilings are being washed down with disinfectants, accompanied by sanitary policemen are going through all the tenements in the vicinity vaccinating everybody they can find.

WHY NOT WINS THE NATIONAL

Runs First in the Grand Steeplechase at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—The Grand National Steeplechase was won by Why Not.

Lady Ellen was second and Wild Man from Borneo was third. The race was a very close one, the three favorites being within three furlongs from home, when Wild Man from Borneo drew to the front; but the latter gave way in the straight to Why Not, who won by a length and a half. A head separated the second and third horses. The betting was 5 to 1 against Why Not. The Grand National Steeplechase is about four miles and 85 yards. The prize is 2,500 sovereigns, inclusive, at the option of the winner, of a trophy of the value of 100 sovereigns.

POINT BREEZE RACES.

Only a Trotting Meeting to Be Held at the Philadelphia Track.

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—That there will be no running meeting at the Point Breeze track the coming season was practically settled at the meeting of stockholders of the Philadelphia Driving Park Association last night. In the place of the previous offer which Daniel McClinch made for a lease of the park to the Board of Directors, he offered another proposition in which he agreed to lease the property for twelve years, paying all taxes, insurance and a yearly rental of $1,000.

He also agreed to make all necessary improvements, but he wanted it executed by the police of the city. The proposition was not received with much favor, and no action was taken on it. The stockholders, however, decided to hold an extra trotting meeting June 26 to 28.

There will be twelve races, and $5,000 will be hung up in purses. There will be three stake races, the 215 pace and the 230 and 234 trotting, and the purses will be $1,000 for each. Entries for the meeting will close May 1.

MR. GRAY'S "REFORMATION."

The Old Badger Worker Was Good Until December Last.

Then He Swindled Publisher Rice Out of $1,100 Cash.

Robert Gray, who has the reputation of being an old-time badger-game worker and bunco-man, was arraigned in Yorkville Court this morning, charged with swindling Frank A. Rice, a publisher, of 217 East Sixty-ninth street. Gray was arrested at his home, 309 Second avenue, last night by Court Officer Vail.

While Rice was publishing a "History of the Volunteer Firemen" he hired Gray as an advertising solicitor. He did not know Gray's record until after the man had been in his employ for some months. When he did learn of it, he spoke about it to Gray, who admitted that his past career was not the straightest. He had reformed, he said, and wanted a chance to do honest work.

He did reform until December last, when he began bringing in bogus advertising contracts, on which he obtained commissions from Rice. When he got about $1,100 in this way, he disappeared.

Rice did not know of the nature of the contracts until the advertisements were printed, and he went to collect his bills. Many of the firms had no existence at all, and others had never given the contracts.

Rice put the police on Gray's track and they located him yesterday. He was held for examination.

"BULL" POWERS IS NERVOUS.

Held Without Bail for the Murder of John Delmore.

Witnesses Tell the Story of the Killing in Hunt's Saloon.

James, alias "Bull" Powers, who shot John Delmore last Sunday afternoon in Thomas Hunt's saloon, 1943 Avenue A, was taken to Harlem Police Court this morning. Powers had been taken to Police Headquarters first, where he was photographed for the Ragues' Gallery. He was also measured and weighed. His height is 6 feet, and his weight 190 pounds.

When taken to court he was very nervous and haggard looking. Lawyer Jacob Bellinger appeared for Powers. The prisoner repeated that the shooting was an accident, that he did not know the revolver was loaded, and simply pointed the revolver at Delmore as a "bluff."

James German, Hunt's bartender, and Christopher McCormick, of 367 East Seventy-sixth street, made affidavits that they witnessed the shooting. Thomas Hunt, proprietor of the saloon, swore he was on the sidewalk when he heard a pistol shot inside the saloon.

John Hogan, lunch server in the saloon, swore he was in the hallway at the time and also heard the shot and saw Powers run into the street through the hall.

Powers stood trembling before the bar as the testimony was being given.

Justice Simms held Powers without bail.

AFTER ANOTHER MINISTER.

Dr. Nagle Wants to Know Why a Certificate Wasn't Filed.

Dr. John T. Nagle, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, is probing another case of dereliction in failing to file a marriage certificate within the time specified by law.

The case is that of Courtland Hamm, the son of a wealthy Philadelphia leather merchant, who married Miss Teresa Alice, daughter of Mrs. John A. Buckley, of 40 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, Oct. 7 last.

The marriage is said to have taken place at the house of a friend of Miss Alice, Rev. J. L. Kellogg, of Philadelphia, officiating. The marriage was kept secret until last Tuesday, when the bride confessed to her mother that she had been married since October.

Dr. Nagle this morning wrote to Mrs. Buckley for information about the matter, stating that no marriage certificate had been filed in his office and explaining that this constituted a violation of the law.
